Our next generation of doors

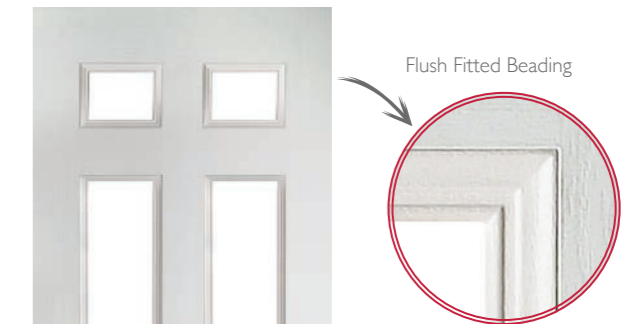

New and exclusive to Pinefield Glass

We never stand still at Pinefield Glass...

Whilst we feel the choice and quality of our doors are unparalleled; we are constantly striving to raise the bar, to improve our products and to give our customers more.

This can be seen very clearly in the latest addition to our range. It's called next-generation, and for very good reason. The range features our latest innovation where the flush-fitted innerframe sits level with the moulding to give sleek lines and a finish which is unsurpassed.

Symmetry and balance are also very much key elements as we want you to look at your door and feel it is perfect in every way.

What makes a Pinefield Glass door so special?..

Looking after our world and your wallet...

The rising cost of energy bills and the impact on the environment means we all want to keep our consumption to a minimum. One of the best ways to achieve this is to choose thermally efficient products which keep warmth in and cold out, saving money and emission levels.

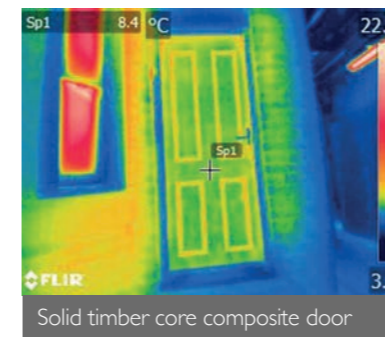

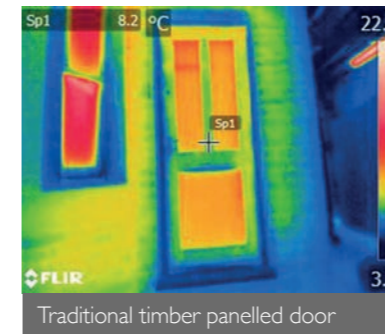

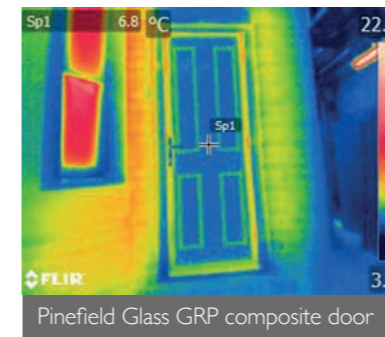

Throughout our brochure you'll have seen that most doors display an energy rating. These are your guide to the most energy efficient products, with 'A' delivering the highest performance levels.

Tests prove a Pinefield Glass GRP Composite Door is - 19% More thermally efficient than a 48mm solid timber core composite door.

17% More thermally efficient than a 44mm traditional timber panelled door.

Doors were tested at the University of Salford's Energy House. This represents a typical Salford 1919 terraced house and its construction represents 21% of the UK's current housing stock. The house has been reconstructed in a fully environmentally controllable chamber, in which climatic conditions can be maintained, varied, repeated and patterns monitored. For the test, the inside temperature of the Energy House was 25°C with an exterior temperature of 5°C.
